1. Introduction:

The population of Pakistan is estimated around 170 Million. The flag has included Sikh, Christians, Hindus, Parsi Buddhists, Ahmadis and other minority group as indicates on the left side of Pakistani flag. The population of minorities has 4%. Over the past sixty years, the minorities are being neglected and issues of minorities become a social vulnerability. According to resolution of 1949, it has evidently declared the rights of minorities and this state is based on equality with no discrimination, but this discrimination has negative effects on social development. Religious minorities have a tendency to sprint in equivalent according to national and international protections. Migration hits the highest point on the basis of religious and dissimilar of culture and ethnic group hence, it has developed the concept of minority rights in Pakistan. For instance, The Ahmadi's frequently don't consider in a Minority group although due to extremism against religious, they feel insecure because it has shove them in the status of minority group. The rights of minority already mentioned in the constitution of Pakistan along-with, it is lack of classification that minority stands for what? According to UN Special Report eventually, the made the clear statement that the rights of individuals are belonging to National, cultural and religious minorities and state must provide the identification and protection according to United Nations Declaration.

Background of the study:

The causes of migration defined with many words ethnic group, gender, religion, race and culture. When migration is involuntarily- frequently it's called forced. This research study highlighted the migration of non-Muslims which is appeared since many years and it has effects on the progressive Pakistan. Migration might be domestic or international but it depends upon human. The word migration is basically movement of human to other region. Infact this migration is based on violation against minorities and intimidating them. This researcher shows the facts and some incidents which was highlighted during the past years.

Pakistan is independent since 1947, but minorities are still couldn't get their destination as our founder of Pakistan Quaid-e-Azam declared that every citizen of Pakistan is free to go their temple, church and other worship place because of intolerance and extremism increase within the country.

The freedom of religion has been inextricable. Keeping this fact there isn't record available that comprehend the exact results and figures of minorities who has been migrated from Pakistan. Since many years non-Muslims are leaving the Pakistan and some of them want to leave the Pakistan but rest of Non-Muslims they can't move due to some financial issues particularly its impact on the overall development of Pakistan. Minorities are feeling insecure – Abduction, Forced Conversation, Killing and life threats are common for their routine life and there isn't protection for them. While the population of minorities becoming less due to intolerance by extremism. The Zia regime has started the Islamisation during the military rule in 1977 – it is basically promoting and helping to Afghan Mujahideen whereas discrimination taken place. Furthermore there were different amendments resulted such as The Penal Code and Blasphemy Law. Since (1988), the intolerance and extremism become awful act. There are many National and International Human Rights groups who declared that Pakistan is failure state for minorities and large scale of violation against Ahmadi, Hindus and Christians has been increasing.

Problem Statement

Pakistan is region whereas different ethnic groups and religious minorities exists Included Hindus, Christians and Ahmadis, considering the recent study conducted by Western religious freedom and human rights minority groups they declared that minorities within Pakistan are discriminated. Due to law and order situation minorities are isolated whereas forcefully conversation, attacking on the Church & Temple and burning the religious books it's frequent in the routine life. According to constitution of Pakistan, it provides the fundamental right to provide the protection of minorities in Pakistan whereas it has already mentioned in “Article 2-A of the Constitution and Minorities Rights”. The migration ratio is increasing day by day- our state is freedom since 1947 afterwards there was implementation in articles by state governs. Recently article has been published in Tribune which is identified that some extremist forcing and threatening to non-Muslims for migration the reason behind it might be plans to take hold of non-Muslims property. Undoubtedly, minorities have been single-minded to misery – though it is indeed to pursue the law which is already exists and it is primary responsibility of law enforcement that they must abide and impose the actions against the culprits. During the 2010 to 2015 there are many cases raised against the violation of minorities even though Shia (Hazara to Gilgit and Gilgit to Karachi) they have been attacked- it is horrified accidents in Pakistan.

2. Literature Review

The Economist reported that the ratios of Christians and Ahmadi increasing in Sri Lanka and they are migrating from Pakistan around 1,489 has already migrated along with they are also migrated to Thailand 1,000 in 2014 according to Express News. Keeping this fact every years 5000 Hindus and 128 Sikh Families are migrated in India subsequently Indian Government has made the task force for allow them to live. Eventually Sri Lanka has made the Visa policy for Pakistani's immigrants.

Due to discrimination raised and violation against non-Muslims, it is horrifying moments and it's against the betterment & Development of Pakistan. There are different types of discrimination occurs in their routine life such as there are quota system for minorities in Pakistan and non-Muslim can be rejected during the job anytime without any notice period. While within the Christen and Hindus, they have been forcefully converted according to one survey report they highlighted this issue and broadcasted in all over the world that Every year christen and Hindus girls are forcefully converted furthermore the magistrate of that state deny to proceed the case of abdication and forcefully conversation of girls once a girl declared that she agreed with her own will there is no further investigation, due to this issue, forced conversation has appeared as a disturbing trend. According to dawn news in every year 5000 Hindus are migrating to different regions. Minorities are moving towards another country due to intolerance, threatening, diminishing the worship places of minorities. According to Saroop Chand Malhi who is resident of UmarKot Sindh Region, stated that women is being abducted and then raped violation against us increasing day by day because we are counted as a minority group furthermore temples are being damaged even we won't be able to be permanent on employment, it creates the fear and harassment against us. We can't run our businesses properly and we've to pay some percentage of income to powerful person.

It is prerequisite that world must address this critical issue and ending this discrimination on the urgent basis along-with support the minority group in Pakistan because they quite helpless and misery. The empowerment of extremism is taking places. Ultimately, throughout the world it will create the intricacy and impact on the overall South and Asian Region.

The large proportion of migration started during the 1947 partition and many Hindus from Punjab migrated to India, It was inflexible time for both countries and most of Hindus are highly educated and they migrated by reason of some sickened circumstances. Furthermore Sindh had the largest proportion of Hindus but that time, they also migrated. According to survey 94% of Hindus were lived in Sindh Province whereas Hindus from Tharparkar, Sukkur and Jacobabad highly effected and they migrated consequently there were many caste included within the Hindus such as: Buraman, Bheel and Oad. The population of Hindus was more than 65% before 1971, later on Indian army were captured half of the proportion. Yet, many Hindus are lives in these areas but at the same time their conditions are very awful especially, in Tharparkar. People of Tharparkar don't have the proper system of water, food and medicines and many people are dying. Caste and religious discrimination is hit the highest point and 80% Hindus are victims in Pakistan according to Banhn Beli NGO worker, he exists in Tharparkar. They are landless and deprived, they work on daily wages and can't afford for shelter, they presents from poorer castes for instance: Kohli, Meghwars and bheel. They don't have proper education system, if it exist then they can't afford for fees even for books. There is inequality among them and state is failed to provide the basic needs which is highly required in Tharparkar, this area represents the real Sindh and it is evident of ancient but due to improper system, the people of Sindh dishearten by considering them lower caste. According to case study 22 Years old boy Roop chand has been burnt by some extremism, he was labourer and belonged from Lower caste "Bheel" but, no one has raise voice against religious extremist, his family was lodged the case but couldn't get the justice. There is no supports from government and they never rebuild the demolished temples which burnt by fanatic extremist. It is obvious that the status and protection of Hindus in Pakistan is prejudiced on a certain stage through what occurs crossways boundary in India.

Different Interviews has collected and disclose that they dealt with the consequences of the devastation of the Babri Masjid across the border in India in 1992.

The Role of Minorities in Pakistan

The role of Minorities in Pakistan is recognizable whereas Pakistan has top reputed personalities included: Jogindranath Mandal he was first Hindu Law minister of Pakistan. Rana chander Singh he was federal minister of Pakistan, Sobho Gianchandani, (Pakistani social scientist) He was the member of communist party and always believed in the humanity and fought for rights in Pakistan. Rana Baghwan Das he was notable and sincere chief justice of Pakistan and there are many non-Muslims who contributed the efforts for the sake of Pakistan.

Minorities are generating the revenue in Sindh whereas most of the Hindus are businessmen, Doctors, Engineers and land lord but due to intolerance by fanatic it is highly impact on the Minority group. They feel unsafe in this country, this is the only reason that minorities from Interior Sindh (Jacobabad, Thul and Sukkur) they mostly migrated to other regions and Indian Government has clearly declared that most of people are belong from Sindh and Balochistan Province. It is violence against minorities in Pakistan which is carrying out till now and people are kidnapping just for ransom amount. Forcefully conversion has started since many years but it is making news icon with the help of media.

This table shows the total migration of minorities from different region and fourteen families has been migrated – though most of the Hindus and Christians have migrated from different regions of Sindh and Punjab.

The questions have been asked from four different families in Pakistan and mostly they answered that we left Pakistan for several reasons and we weren't secure in Pakistan. Throughout the overall Interviews and conversation they disclosed that we couldn't go to temple freely and girls weren't allowing to study in Pakistan. The most important thing – our lives are insecure and forcefully conversation is common in Pakistan. Therefore our family has decided to migrate. We've emotional attachment with Pakistan but due to extremism, this incident has happened but we are under protection now (Migrated family from Pakistan now lives in Ahmedabad, India)

4. Conclusion

This case study highlighted the major issue throughout the overall study, this is not only responsibility of Government but also Civil Society must take efforts to stop this issue and it is extremist hatred for the minorities in Pakistan whereas they feel unsafe instead of this, by birth they lives in Pakistan but due to intolerance migration has taken the place but this isn't only solution. Migration is impact on the country's economy policy and also the development because there many investors in Pakistan who is belong from Minority group, if they aren't secure then why will they invest in Pakistan? Few cases are very highlighted in the International Media which is horrified included Rinkle Kumari & Lata Kumari Case afterwards the migration ratios is increasing such as Many families are migrating from Sindh region while that time, interior minister attempted to stop them and doesn't want to give them permission in Islamabad, Pakistan later on they got permission and they never come back during the 2011-12. Most significantly the Pakistani Parliament should make amendments and impose the article 36 'Protection of Minorities' a part of Fundamental Rights thereby bringing it under the operational part of the constitution
